Understanding What We Do

Withdrawal symptoms can be very uncomfortable and even dangerous. That's why it's important to detox in a safe and comfortable setting under medical supervision.

Cincinnati, Ohio, offers a wide variety of detox options to meet your specific needs. At Findlay Recovery Center, we offer both inpatient and outpatient services.

Inpatient detoxification programs provide around-the-clock care from trained medical professionals. These programs allow you to stay in a safe and supportive environment while detoxing from drugs or alcohol.

Outpatient drug detox programs provide more flexibility than inpatient programs. For example, you will be able to live at home or in a sober living facility while attending treatment sessions during the day.

Both inpatient and outpatient detox programs can be very effective in helping you achieve your sobriety goals. However, the right type of program for you will depend on your unique situation.

If you are considering detoxing from drugs or alcohol, contact us today as we are one of the best substance abuse detox centers in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Problem Is At An All Time High

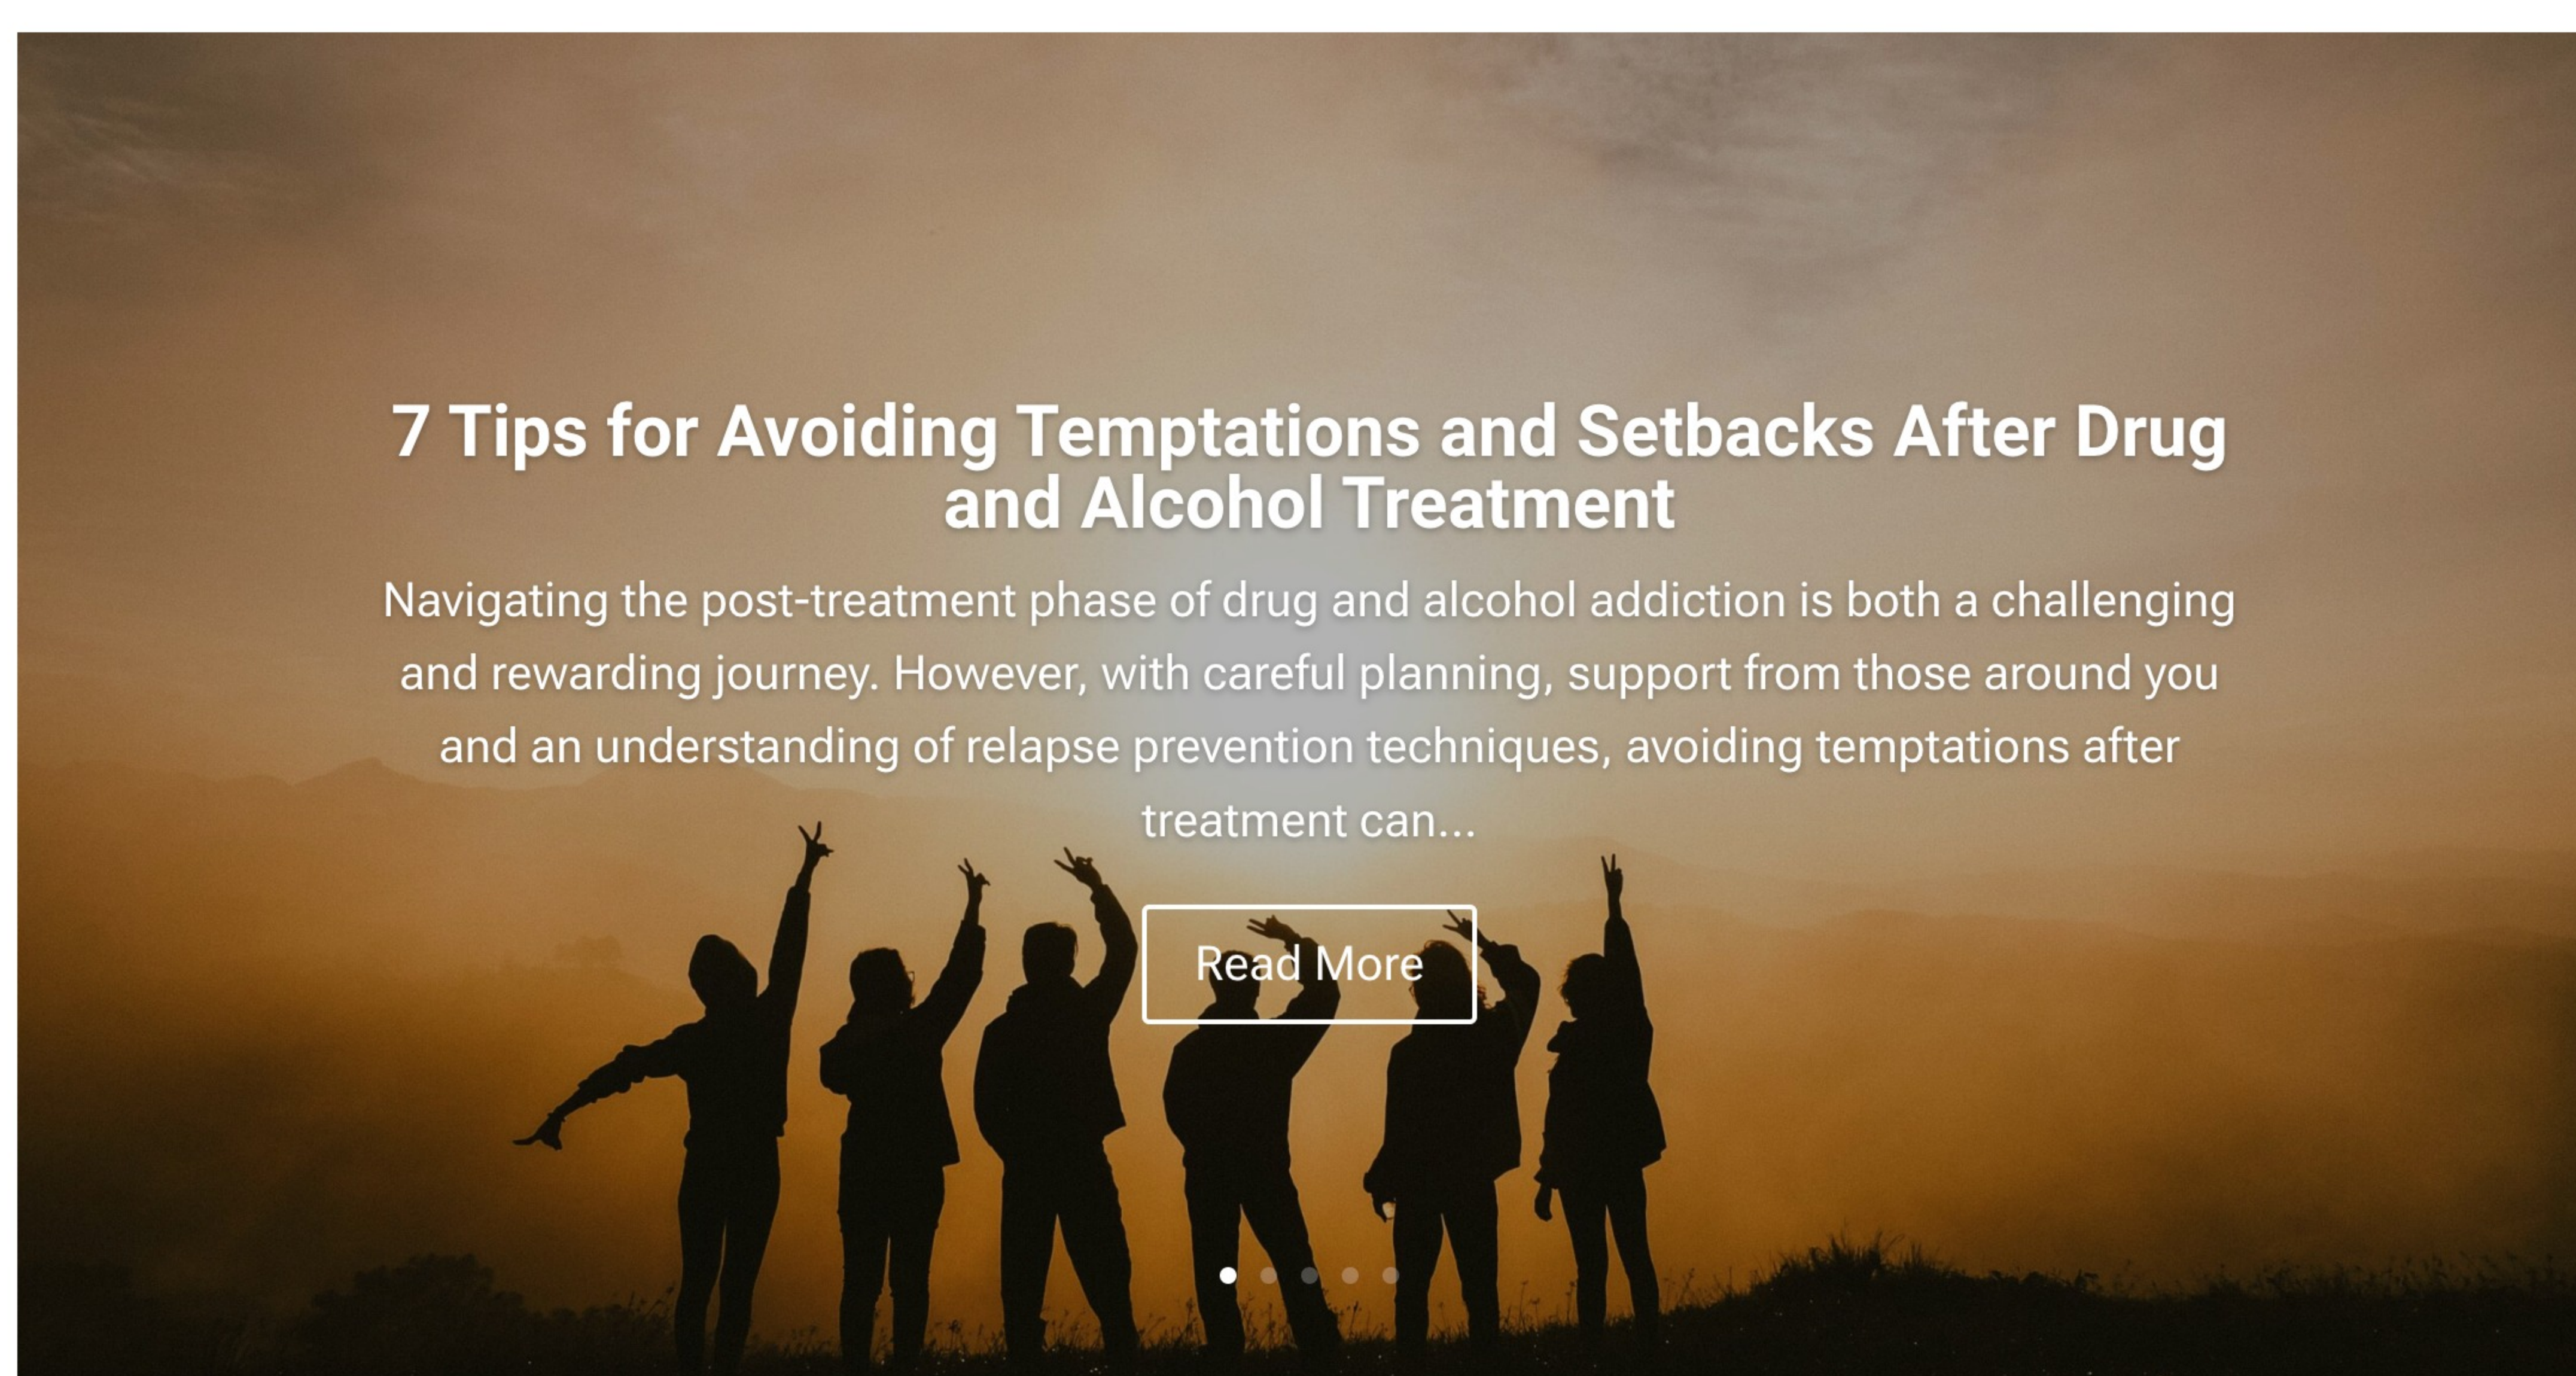

Drug addiction in Cincinnati, Ohio, is becoming a significant problem. According to a recent study, heroin addicts increased by 35% in just a couple of months in 2020, and more than 500 Ohioans have died due to drug overdoses. The city is struggling to keep up with the demand for treatment and detox services.

Findlay Recovery Center, a Cincinnati, Ohio Substance Abuse Detox Center, is a facility that offers detoxification services for those addicted to drugs and alcohol. Our center is staffed by experienced professionals who are dedicated to helping their patients overcome addiction.

Our center offers various services, including detoxification, counseling, and support groups. Detoxification is the first step in treatment and usually occurs in an inpatient setting. This allows patients to be monitored closely by medical staff and receive the necessary support to safely detox from drugs and alcohol. Counseling and support groups are essential components of treatment, as they provide patients with the opportunity to share their experiences and learn from others who are facing similar challenges. If you or someone you know is struggling with addiction, please reach out to us at Findlay Recovery Center. We can help you get on the road to recovery and lead a healthy, full life.
